

We are a family-owned company with more than 117 years of tradition. We provide unique Cocoa Products, Chocolates, and Confectionery as ingredients for other food companies and manufacture finished products for private labels and our own brands.

We ensure supply, traceability, and best practices in quality, food safety, security*, and competence, as well as compliance with applicable legal and regulatory requirements and the continuous improvement of our risk management-focused processes.

To contribute to the sustained success of the organization, we are committed to:

- Implementing and maintaining good security practices supported by competent personnel, safe facilities, reliable business partners, and a security culture that ensures operational traceability and information protection.
- Operating under high-security standards to prevent the occurrence of illicit activities, corruption, money laundering, transnational bribery, terrorism, financing the proliferation of weapons of mass destruction, and contamination with chemical, radiological, and biological substances in our supply chain.
- Promoting a culture of hazard and aspect identification, as well as the evaluation, assessment, and control of risks and impacts to prevent workplace accidents and illnesses, environmental and product contamination.
- Guaranteeing the due respect and implementation of human rights at all levels of the organization.

We remain true to our purpose of making the world a better place by helping other companies create purposeful products, using our products as a tool for change.

* Occupational health and safety of employees and contractors, property security and Safety in the use of information technology
Application of knowledge and skills in order to achieve the intended results
The specific requirements and commitments of each system are detailed in the management manuals

